RE-MIXING THE CITY

TOWARDS SUSTAINABILITY AND RESILIENCE?

There is nothing permanent except change. (Heraclitus)

Cities worldwide are facing rapid social, economic, environmental, technological and cultural changes such as: rapid urbanisation, aging of society, security issues, housing emergency, new solutions on mobility, integration of immigrants, food and water shortage, etc.

Especially in times of economic crisis and demographic changes in cities, it is necessary to think about how to best handle what we have, and therefore “RE-MIXING THE CITY” is a challenge to manage and re-combine the elements which make up our modern cities in order to better respond to change. REAL CORP 2012 will offer the possibility to collectively discuss a wide range of topics in different panel groups, round tables and workshops.

- Can “mixed cities” be more sustainable and resilient?
- Living, working, learning, relaxing, enjoying, shopping, ... – anything anywhere anytime? Time-space patterns of the 24/7 city?
- Is it the purpose of spatial planning to “sort land uses in space”?
- Do the urban patterns and structure of our cities still meet the needs of the people in their everyday life?
- How do urban, transport and environmental technologies and solutions shape our cities?
- New faces, new approaches, new ideas – does and can migration re-mix the city?
- What is the role of urban planning in these processes?

Additional special topics of REAL CORP 2012

- Urban, Transport & Environmental Technologies and Solutions
- Intelligent Urban Environments, Urban Ambient Assisted Living (URBAN AAL)
- Resilience, Safety & Security
